Day 1 USHUAIA

Your journey starts in Ushuaia. Spend a few hours exploring the quaint town or join in on an optional excursion before boarding the MS Fram at nightfall. Relax as you set course through the scenic Beagle Channel to Antarctica.

Day 2 DRAKE PASSAGE

While you sail through the Drake Passage, you will have some time to kill aboard the ship. Join your fellow mates in spotting wildlife, albatross, and other seabirds. If you would rather relax in the comfort of the indoors, attend one of the many informational lectures that the cruise offers. During these presentations, you will learn about the history, environment, and wildlife of Antarctica, as well as the visitor guidelines from the Antarctic Treaty and International Association of Antarctica Tour Operators (IAATO).

Day 3 DRAKE PASSAGE & PREPARE FOR ANTARCTICA

During these two days at sea, you will have ample time to prepare yourself for the activities and excursions that await you in Antarctica. Learn from your experienced guides on board on how to interact with the fascinating penguins and other wildlife in Antarctica. The sheer amount of wildlife on this continent will astound you.

Day 4 - Day 10 ANTARCTICA

You have finally reached Antarctica, the natural wonder you have been waiting to explore. Bundle up in some warm clothing, as you near this new terrain across the Antarctic Convergence. Keep those camera's focused as you pass by icebergs and near Antarctica.

Some of the highlights include Deception Island, Half Moon Island, Yankee Harbour, Cuverville Island, Neko Harbour, and Paradise Harbour. Depending on the weather, you may partake in activities such as kayaking, an overnight in a tent or hiking excursions to a penguin colony.

Day 11 - Day 12 DRAKE PASSAGE

Plan to be out on the deck during your voyage from the Antarctic Peninsula to Ushuaia, because at the southern tip there is roughly about 600 miles of good weather.

On your way back to South America, enjoy recapping the highlights of your trip with the expedition team and your crewmates on board.

Day 13 USHUAIA

In the morning, you will disembark from the MS Fram in Ushuaia. Continue your adventure with an optional excursion to Buenos Aires or Rio de Janeiro, or simply catch a flight home.
