ITINERARY CLASSIC ANTARCTICA

Day 1

ARRIVAL IN PUNTA ARENAS

Arrive at Punta Arenas Airport where an Antarctica XXI representative will be waiting for you and take you to your hotel (the pick-up will take place until 3 pm).

At the afternoon, start your Antarctic experience attending a briefing where one of the guides will provide important information about the itinerary and the basic rules to follow on the land of ice.

Go to a welcome dinner to enjoy a typical Patagonian meal and meet the people that will join you during your 8-day trip.

Day 2

PUNTA ARENAS - KING GEORGE ISLAND

Take a two-hour flight from Punta Arenas to King George Island, located on the South Shetland Islands for your first arrival in the Antarctic continent. Take in the first views of the pristine icebergs, the deep water and the exotic sea birds.

Visit the Chilean and Russian Stations: Frei and Bellingshausen. Board a Zodiac boat to embark your expedition vessel (either Ocean Nova or Sea Explorer, depending on the date).

Days 3 - 6

SOUTH SHETLAND ISLANDS - ANTARCTIC PENINSULA

Due to the unpredictable climate conditions on Antarctica, making each voyage unique. During the third and the sixth days, the possible places that can be visited are: Paulet Island, Hope Bay, Port Lockroy, Petermann Island, Paradise Bay, Deception Island, Lemaire Channel and more, all of them located on the South Shetland Islands and the Antarctic Peninsula.

Contemplate the fascinating wildlife from the glass-enclosed lounge joined by the expert polar guides who will carefully explain the characteristics of each specie. Also, disembark on land to explore the Adelie, Emperor, Macaroni, Gentoo, and Chinstrap penguins colonies, and the charismatic varieties of seas and sea elephants.

Day 7

KING GEORGE ISLAND - PUNTA ARENAS

Return to King George Island for your departure from the Antarctica and take a flight back to Punta Arenas, where you will stay at your hotel.

Note: Once in Punta Arenas, meals will be at your leisure (not included).

Day 8

DEPARTURE FROM PUNTA ARENAS

After breakfast, transfer to the Punta Arenas airport to continue your trip throughout South America or fly back home.
