

SANTIAGO AND EASTER ISLAND TOUR

Santiago & Easter Island

8 DAYS / 7 NIGHTS

For those on a honeymoon or travelers with archeological curiosity, this Santiago & Easter Island tour combines two of Chile's most popular destinations: Santiago de Chile and the tropical island of Rapa Nui, also called Easter Island, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. These two highlights of Chile offer a distinct contrast. Santiago sits along the central Pacific Coast with the snow-capped Andes overlooking the city, and Easter Island is in the South Pacific Ocean, closer to Tahiti than to the Chilean mainland.

FLIGHT TO RAPA NUI & EASTER ISLAND

Get ready to explore the magical Easter Island today. Board a flight and travel some 3,800kms from Santiago before landing on this remote Polynesian island. Arrive in the main town of Hanga Roa and check into your hotel. Known as Rapa Nui in the local language, Europeans first discovered the island in 1722. The Polynesian civilization constructed incredible moai statues representing ancestors and powerful leaders and many have been mysteriously toppled over while others remain unfinished. Explore the rest of the 24km-long island over the next three days and see several towering moai statues scattered around the island. Wander through the small shops of Hanga Roa on the first day and gain a sense of this unique region.

Day 4

ANAKENA & THE LOST RAPA NUI CULTURE

Dig deep into the past of Easter Island and choose from a range of engaging historical tours today. One popular choice is a full-day tour to Anakena beach with stops at some time-honored landmarks. Anakena beach possesses clear turquoise waters overlooked by the moai of Ahu Nau Nau and is considered the most beautiful beach on the island. During today's tour, visit the infamous ahū that have confounded archaeologists and historians for years. Visit Ahu Vaihu and be impressed by these downward-facing statues. Explore Ahu Akahanga, the burial place of the legendary king Hotu Matu'a, whose arrival marked the beginning of time for Rapa Nui. Continue to Rano Raraku and gaze up at one of the island's three dormant volcanoes. Next, visit the largest ahū on the island, Ahu Tongariki, comprised of fifteen majestic moai along the southeastern coast. Then finish up where the tour began at Anakena beach, where Hotu Matu'a and his troop disembarked for the first time. After a day steeped in history and culture, return to the present and transfer back to your hotel.

Note: A packed lunch is included today.

Day 5

ORONGO, TANGATA MANU CEREMONIAL CENTER

Travel to the village of Orongo today to learn a few secrets of some ancient Polynesian rituals. Here the annual Birdman or Tangata Manu ceremony was held to determine the ruler of Rapa Nui, a competition that began after the construction of the moai. Each year, on the arrival of the migratory birds to the island, the fastest competitor to swim to Matu Nui islet, snatch an egg and return to shore would be crowned the winner. Next, take the opportunity to explore Ana Kai Tangata, an ancient cave that featuring petroglyphs and time-worn motifs and rock paintings. Finally, visit Ahu Vinapu to admire unique architecture that resembles that of the Incas in Peru. After the tour, head north to return to your hotel.

After the tour, ponder the powerful rituals and beliefs of the ancient Polynesians and return to your hotel.
