Settle in and go for a refreshing dip in the swimming pool or just relax at your hotel. Feast on a Brazilian dinner tonight (included).

Day 2

IGUAZU FALLS TOUR

October 16th

Visit Iguazu Falls from both Argentina and Brazil on a full-day excursion. Cross into Argentina for a walk above the Falls, more extensive and powerful than Niagara Falls. For a different perspective, take the Gran Aventura boat cruise underneath the cascading torrents to see them in greater detail and feel the spray of the water. Then head to the Brazilian side and walk out onto an elevated platform to view the mighty garganta do diabo or “Devil’s Throat.”

Day 3

OKTOBERFEST IN BLUMENAU

October 17th

Head to the heart of German colonization in the 19th century, the hillside town of Blumenau. German heritage is evident in the architecture, food and festivals of the area, including the popular Oktoberfest every spring. The residents of Blumenau roll out their best kegs of beer and dust off their lederhosen to get into the spirit. Known as one of the largest Oktoberfest celebrations outside Munich, it’s a major attraction for fans of German culture or those that simply enjoy a pint or two. Dine on some traditional *Deutsch*cuisine and stay at a conveniently-located hotel close to all the action

Day 4

OKTOBERFEST PARADE

October 18th

See the highlights of historical Blumenau with your expert tour guide who will also explain how Oktoberfest began here. In 1880, a wave of German and Austrian immigrants decided to settle in the area, pioneering further growth. After the tour, join in with the crowds to watch the Oktoberfest parade that often features musicians from Munich and children dancing to traditional songs. Don’t miss the chance to sample a range of German beers and tasty bratwurst.

Day 5 CURITIBA

October 19th

Travel through the diverse landscapes of the region on your way to Curitiba. Journey through the dense Atlantic Rainforest, flat farmland, subtropical forest and Araucária trees. Once in Curitiba, check-in to your hotel. Named the best-organized city in South America and is considered a model of urban planning for many Western countries. A veritable melting-pot, it has welcomed a variety of immigrants of Dutch, Polish, German, Italian, Ukrainian, Arab and Japanese origin. Tonight's dinner (included) offers a taste of the region's mix of cultures and cuisines.

Day 6 CURITIBA & ATLANTIC RAINFOREST TRAIN RIDE

October 20th

Take a city tour of Curitiba's highlights today. Visit the stately Glass Opera House and continue to the coast for a stroll along the historic promenade of the Port of Antonina. After lunch, board the scenic historic railway as it winds its way up to 1200m above sea level through the Atlantic Rainforest mountains and back to Curitiba.

Day 7 SÃO PAULO

October 21st

Today, board a plane to São Paulo, the world's third largest city and South America's industrial center. Go on a guided tour to discover the major sights and landmarks such as the Liberdade Japanese district, the Sé Cathedral, Patio do Colégio, Paulista Avenue and the financial district of São Paulo featuring beautiful Art-Deco architecture.

Day 8
